Anne Frank

Anne Frank was a Jewish girl who had lived with her family in Amsterdam 1 when the germans invaded Holland in 1940. The German authorities 2 introduced harsh anti-Jewish laws and have start to deport Jews to concentration 3 camps in Eastern Europe. In July 1942, Anne’s father heard a rumor that he 4 was going to be arrested by the police and the family resolve to find a hiding 5 place. They moved into an attic above Mr. Frank’s office and build a bookcase 6 to disguise the entrance to the secret apartment. Friends would bring food to the 7 family each morning, and they use to keep up to date with the news by listening to 8 the BBC on a small radio. Anne didn’t have any friends her own age, so she 9 confided her feelings to a diary. On August 3th, another Jewish family joined the 10 Franks with their sixteen-year-old Peter. Peter was telling Anne that the 11 Germans had been sending Jews to concentration camps since a month. Anne 12 and Peter became very fond of each other in the awfull cramped conditions of 13 the secret place and had helped each other with their lessons. But somebody 14 had given away the family’s secret. The German police had been watched the 15 hiding place for several days and on August 14th, 1944 they bursted in and arrested 16 all the occupants. The germans sent Anne to the Belsen concentration 17 camp and she was killed on February or March 1945, only a month or six weeks 18 before the british army arrived. Anne’s father was taken to Auschwitz and 19 survived the war. He found Anne’s diary and published it in 1947. 20
